A Letter from Dr. Jen & Jamie

We love our communities. We say “communities” plural, because there are so many that we’re grateful for and proud to be a part of – and so far this year, we’ve had many reasons to be.

First off, the community of animal welfare organizations in Washington state. Most people don’t know how much we rely on our partners at other shelters and animal support organizations – and how much they rely on us. We all work together to help alleviate overcrowded kennels, move pets to safe and happy homes more efficiently, and find the resources and services we need to operate. Case in point: we were recently called upon by Humane Society of Mason County (HSMC) to help with a sad and difficult situation. Sixty-seven dogs and a horse were found living in squalid conditions, emaciated and dehydrated, and in need of immediate care. Katherine Johnson of HSMC called upon her friends in the animal welfare community to help. And help they did. Multiple agencies showed up to the property to assist law enforcement, assess animals, and take them to safe quarters. Roughly eight hours later, all of the animals were processed and transported to the beginnings of a better life – all because of a community that banded together in a common mission.

Then there’s our community of volunteers and staff. We literally can’t say enough about these amazing people. Day in and day out, these angels in human form show up – in the case of volunteers, without pay – and express their love for the animals in our care through the gift of time. They make sure every dog gets multiple walks each day. They ensure every cat gets socialization time. They do everything from puppy playdates to veterinary care. They mow the lawn and make repairs to our facilities. They foster animals in their own homes. They do counseling and adoptions. They serve on our board of directors. They wash dishes and laundry. They are – quite simply – the backbone of Kitsap Humane Society and we couldn’t do the things we do without them. The debt we owe them is immeasurable.

And of course, the community of Kitsap. We’re enormously fortunate to live among such incredible individuals and businesses. We’re a nonprofit and not a government entity, which means we rely on donations, adoption fees, grants, and events to make ends meet. More to the point, we rely on the generosity of our neighbors. From the businesses that support our monthly “Puppuccino Pals” to the donors of equipment and services (thank you Tractor Supply and Rainy City Scouts – and many others!) to everyone who supports our events – like PetsWALK, Putting Fore! Pets, and Animal Krackers – with sponsorships and auction items, the outpouring of love is overwhelming.

So, now as we head into our second year as Co-Executive Directors (no longer “Interim” by the way), we’re forever grateful that we’ll be standing in partnership with our communities. We vow to work every day to strengthen the safety net called Kitsap Humane Society that we’ve all built together and ensure that your confidence in us only grows. Thank you for your support!

Thank you,

PROVIDING A NEW LEASH ON LIFE

By Timber Hunt, Marketing & Social Media Coordinator

When sweet Mgee arrived at Kitsap Humane Society as a stray, he was scared to leave the safe space of his new kennel and very reluctant to leash up for walks. Our team of staff and volunteers knew immediately that he'd be a dog who would need plenty of time and patience to feel safe. After giving him the space and opportunity to open up, he started to look forward to his daily walks and getting fresh air out on the trails that wrap around the campus. Through those jaunts, Mgee gained the kind of confidence on the leash that made him an outstanding candidate for adoption.

And Mgee's not alone. Just four months into 2024, volunteers at Kitsap Humane Society have already completed over 16,000 hours of service, with more than half of those hours allocated to our dog walkers who help good dogs come out of their shells. Each day, our canine guests enjoy at least two walks per day, with the addition of other enrichment activities. This gives them the chance to get out of the kennel, stretch their paws, bond with their walkers, and get much-deserved love and care.

"Our volunteer programs play a vital role in enriching the lives of animals by providing them with compassion, care, attention, and opportunities for physical and mental stimulation. This all ultimately improves the quality of life for each animal and increases their chances of finding loving homes," said Volunteer Manager Kelsey Longrie.

Being in the Pacific Northwest, our dogs and dog walkers enjoy our stunning secluded walking trails, offering a beautiful and serene atmosphere to get their steps in, away from the hustle and bustle of the shelter. With multiple pathways and shortcuts to take, our walking trails encircle the whole campus and serve as a great tool for canine enrichment and exercise. Our shelter pups even get the opportunity to go on offsite outings with volunteer groups! Together, they frequent nearby hiking trails and beaches, giving pups even more to explore and enjoy! Depending on each dog's likes and dislikes, multiple dogs can be taken out as a group, walking together during new adventures.

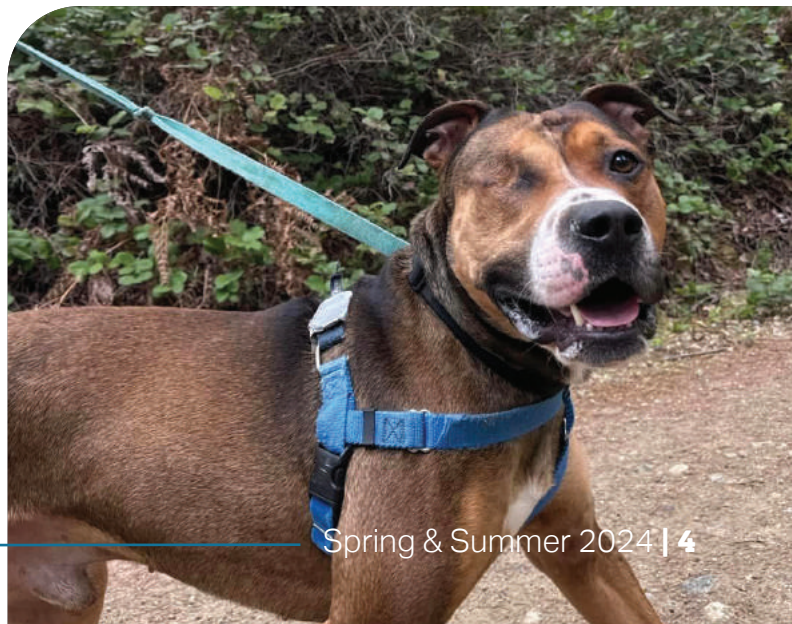

Not only does dog walking and enrichment offer mental and physical exercise, but it also provides insight into each pup's unique personality, giving our team a better understanding of homes that may suit them. Since we often have little background information on animals entering the shelter, outings, walks, enrichments, and playgroups give us a chance to understand their quirks and provide individual support.

Our incredible behavior team works diligently to introduce playgroups, giving dogs off-leash play with other dogs in our play yards. Since dogs are social creatures, allowing them to communicate with other dogs through play is enormously beneficial for behavior and lowering stress levels in the shelter environment. Since dogs in the shelter have varying levels of social skills and different styles of play, these activities give our team a great baseline to support the animals' individual pathways.

“Watching a dog who is fearful being at the shelter come out of their shell in playgroups and seeing their true personality shine through is always a really special moment to be a part of. It’s also so fun to watch the dogs chase and wrestle, getting time to just be dogs together. And the peace and calm of the kennels after a busy day of playgroups just shows us that our hard work paid off and they get to enjoy some well-deserved relaxation,” says Community Resource and Behavior Manager Chris Russell.

From dog-walking and beach outings to behavior training and assessments to in-kennel enrichment and playgroups, everyone at KHS is committed to gaining a deeper understanding of the dogs in our care. That dedication from our staff and volunteers helps ensure that thousands of dogs are fully supported mentally and physically in their journey to new loving homes – just like the one Mgee found.

2023 THE YEAR IN REVIEW

To say that 2023 was a game-changing year for Kitsap Humane Society would be an enormous understatement. It will forever be remembered as a year when our most audacious dream became a reality and – thanks to a dedicated team of staff and volunteers – we immeasurably strengthened the community safety net that KHS provides.

That dream, of course, was the construction and opening of the Russ and Linda Young Veterinary Lifesaving Center. Springing from the 2019 change in the way humane societies could administer medical care – a change in the Washington State law that was brought about by the efforts of Dr. Jen and her fellow veterinarians – this new community clinic is able to provide reduced-cost surgeries to pets whose families can't afford traditional care. It's a vital addition to the landscape of veterinary care and an invaluable resource for those who need it.

On the south end of campus, we also completed the Big Animal Barn, donated by the Jacobi Family Foundation. This facility allows our Animal Control Officers to house livestock and other large animals in the short-term, until their people or a more appropriate place to live are found, and it augments the services we're able to provide to the people we serve.

2023 wasn't just about construction, however. We saw some fantastic operational accomplishments as well.

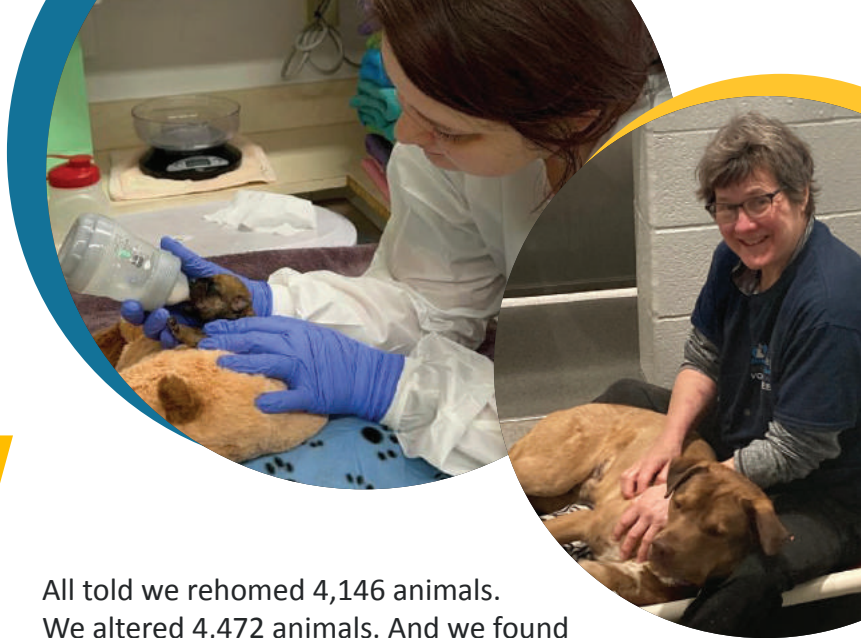

All told we rehomed 4,146 animals. We altered 4,472 animals. And we found foster homes – thanks to our good-hearted volunteers – for 1,048 animals.

To help fund the care and progress of all of these pets, we held dozens of hugely successful events, including our 30th annual Animal Crackers gala, our Putting Fore Pets golf tournament, and PetsWALK in Poulsbo.

In an effort to expand our reach to the community, we began a partnership with an organization called Greater Good Charities, with whom we were named one of only two ambassadors in the state. Through this collaboration, we're able to facilitate deliveries of donated food and other products that will not only help our operations, but also allow us to share with other area charities in need.

And in September, we received a kind of validation that we're doing things right, when – after a long, exhausting process – we were accepted to the PetSmart Charities Accelerator Access to Veterinary Care program. This is the kind of national recognition that confirms KHS as a model humane society and aligns us with a partner in PetSmart – both financially and operationally – for the next four years.

The short version of all this is: 2023 was a spectacular success. Thank you to everyone who joined us in celebrating the past year's victories, and thank you in advance for your continued support in 2024.

Thank you to our Granters

Securing grants is a common way to fund any non-profit mission. Most awards are based on merit, not on need, and grant opportunities are highly competitive. The Grantsmanship Center in Los Angeles writes, "Since the point of a grant award is impact rather than money, the real point of a grant proposal is to rally the necessary resources to help the non-profit fulfill its purpose. A grant is a tool non-profits use to address important issues within their communities."

Grants have become increasingly important at Kitsap Humane Society, especially as we work to advance best practices and integrate emerging priorities in animal welfare into our programs. From funding for senior dog care, to our low-cost spay/neuter program, to support for our canine behavior and training program, grants are helping KHS sustain and grow our impact on animal lifesaving and creating a more humane community. KHS is grateful to our grant funders and partners and proud to acknowledge them in this special issue of our magazine.

Many thanks to Haselwood Auto Group, our 2024 Grand Shelter Sponsor

WE LOVE PETCO LOVE

For nonprofits like Kitsap Humane Society, grants are more than mission-driving sources of funds; they're also a validation that you're doing things right. That's especially true of the recent 2024 award we received from Petco Love – where we not only collected a $45,000 check to support our lifesaving efforts, but also received an additional matching gift from a very generous anonymous donor.

The Petco Love grant was awarded following a competitive and exhaustive application process that aims to award grants to organizations like KHS by facilitating access to affordable pet care, free pet vaccines, cancer resources, and other veterinary support. Since its founding in 1999, Petco Love has invested more than $380 million in adoptions and other lifesaving efforts and distributed over 2.2 million vaccines.

Some of those vaccines have been an invaluable resource for KHS as it strives to support pets and their people in need throughout Kitsap. Vaccines supplied by Petco Love were administered during KHS' Spay Week – when our team spayed nearly 300 cats over five days – and during Project Connect, which you can read about at right.

“As a nonprofit, we are absolutely indebted to programs like Petco Love and other grants that help us do the work we do,” said Co-Executive Director Jamie Nocula. “Their generosity – and that of the anonymous donor who offered to match the grant – fuels our mission and provides the means for us to strengthen the community safety net we provide. We couldn't be more grateful for the good work they're doing across the nation.”

CONNECTING WITH THE COMMUNITY

Kitsap Humane Society was proud to partner with Project Connect recently, working with other local organizations to reach out to people in our community in need of assistance. Our own Dr. B – along with Animal Control Chief Chase Connolly, Executive Director Jamie Nocula, and others – spent the day at Salvation Army in Bremerton, giving free vaccines to pets (courtesy of Petco Love), providing pet food and snacks, and handing out pet coats, collars, and leashes. All told, dozens of local animals were vaccinated and several hundred pounds of food was delivered to pets and their people in need. Thank you to Project Connect and everyone who participated to make our community a better place!

PHILANTHROPY FOCUS

Who's House? Sam's House!

Call it kismet. Serendipity. Amazing coincidences. Maybe even magic. Whatever it was, the universe was smiling upon Kitsap Humane Society last year and it resulted in the beginnings of what we call Sam's Angel Fund. Why "Sam"? We'll get to that in a minute.

Sam's Angel Fund is the account through which KHS will cover the costs of the reduced-fee surgeries and other veterinary care performed at the new Russ and Linda Young Veterinary Lifesaving Center. The first donations to the Fund have already been received, and while many more will be needed to operate this community safety net, we're off to a great start. And that's where the name comes in. It's a strange story, but a good one that involves a lot of wonderful people.

It starts with a family in Kingston that donated a house to KHS (wonderful people #1). The owner had passed away and the home was left to the shelter. So, the first step was to inspect the house and ascertain if a sale was viable. We enlisted Dana Post (wonderful person #2) at Life Changing Real Estate – a longtime supporter of KHS (read more about her at right) – to take an initial look at the property. Dana and KHS Co-Executive Director Jamie Nocula met the executor of the estate at the home, and Jamie, being the dog person she is, was drawn to a portrait of a pooch hanging on the wall. That dog was Sam – the homeowner's longtime best friend.

Once the home evaluation was finished and the KHS Board of Directors had signed off on the transaction – perhaps as a way to pay for some of the ongoing construction of the new clinic – the next task was to get the home in selling-shape – so we called upon Blue Nest Home – another KHS supporter that specializes in cleaning houses and organizing and auctioning off the contents (wonderful people #3). Blue Nest spruced up the property, categorized the contents, and built a website to sell the items, while waiving their usual fee. And, when it came time to take away trash and things that couldn't be sold, Kitsap Junk stepped up and offered free services as well (wonderful people #4).

This is where the magic comes in. During the auction day, when buyers lined up at the house to pick up their online purchases, a neighbor wandered over with her puppy to see what the commotion was about. Because Jamie can't resist a dog – any dog – she went over to chat. She learned from the neighbor that Sam the dog was not only a KHS alum, but ended up at that home because Dr. Jim Moore – a former KHS Board Member and something of a legend around the campus and in the Kingston and Kitsap community (wonderful person #5) – was friends with the homeowner and recognized a good pairing when he saw one.

By the time the house was sold, however, fundraising for the new KHS clinic had been completed. So, what to do with the proceeds? They became the beginnings of Sam's Angel Fund, seeded by the sale of the house and named for the dog who lived there. Now, when a community member absolutely cannot afford the critical care their pet needs, the medicines that will keep Fido or Mittens healthy, or the surgery that will save a life, Sam (above) will come to the rescue, thanks to all of these amazing people and those who donate to the Fund in the future (wonderful people #6).

OUR SUPPORTERS MAKE ALL THE DIFFERENCE

We at Kitsap Humane Society are enormously fortunate to have such great community support. Among those supporters is Dana Post, realtor, broker, and owner of Life Changing Real Estate. KHS chose Dana to represent them because of her commitment to donating proceeds on every home sale and purchase to her clients' chosen nonprofits.

Beginning her real estate career in 2006, Dana's vision originated after a service trip to Peru in 2017. "My business mission is to empower my clients to choose the nonprofit that matches their beliefs and add an extra layer of service and meaning for each transaction," said Dana.

After selling the Kingston home on behalf of KHS, she turned around and set up a recurring annual donation to the shelter and has committed to additional donations for every home sale or purchase in the future. "The work Kitsap Humane does inspires me to be a part of it. I'm proud to support them any way I can."

HAPPY TAILS KIKI

When a tiny sick grey kitten was found along with her three siblings in the woods behind a Port Orchard property in June of 2018, she had no idea the life waiting for her. With no mom in sight and in need of medical attention, a good Samaritan was able to safely round up the weeks – old kittens and get them to Kitsap Humane Society. Since the kittens were still too young to be adopted out and with medical needs to tend to, Kiki – or Polly as she was known at the time – was placed into a loving foster home to grow big and strong. It was there that her future family – good friends of the foster parent – fell in love with her. They watched her fight to overcome illness and come into her unique personality. Thanks to the compassionate care of her foster family, Kiki – or Princess Polly Potato Chip as she is lovingly nicknamed – grew into a happy and healthy kitten and when she was old enough to be adopted, her new family was more than ready to welcome her home. After a tragic loss in the family, Kiki's adopter knew that her son needed the kitty. The two closely became bonded in a way Kiki's adopter says she "can't describe in words." Since her adoption day, the two have only grown closer as Kiki continues to be a source of love and comfort. Her adopter says Kiki has taught her son what pure love looks like and what it means to care for another life.

HAPPY TAILS MR. TUCKER

It was immediately clear when Mr. Tucker arrived at Kitsap Humane Society that something was wrong. The 3-year-old Bulldog mix was concerningly sick and lethargic. He was dehydrated, vomiting, fatigued, and in desperate need of help from our veterinary team. After a brief examination, our vet staff suspected a foreign body in his GI tract may be to blame for his symptoms. They urgently went into surgery to see what they could find but never could have imagined what they would discover. During the surgery, our veterinarians were shocked to discover an intact blackened corn cob in his stomach. Almost immediately after removal, Mr. Tucker was bright and alert, eating well, and on the road to recovery. Now feeling so much better, we finally began to see Mr. Tucker's true personality shine through. After rounds of medication and close monitoring by our staff, Mr. Tucker was feeling like himself and eventually cleared to be available for adoption. Shortly after becoming available, Mr. Tucker caught the eye of his loving family who took him home. Today Mr. Tucker is blossoming in his new home, enjoying all that adopted life has to offer. He's learned how to sit, shake, and speak on command and even put on healthy weight. He loves to play with his mom and dad, cuddle up on the couch, and get the zoomies! The best part – he's now got the cozy shark pajamas to complete his new lease on life!
